Jupiter Conjunct Neptune December 14 - 26, 2009

Happy Holidays, Everyone!

For the next couple weeks, during this most wonderful time of the year, Jupiter and Neptune are conjunct, making a harmonious aspect to each other. Could you have asked for anything better? Jupiter is the Santa Claus of the zodiac and Neptune the god of spirituality!!! Wow! Isn't that special.

Jupiter is the planet associated with enthusiasm for expansion, abundance, humor, joy, optimism, foreign travel, outdoors running, large animals, higher education and religion, writing and publishing. Neptune is associated with the sea, sensing, having faith, believing and impressions. It is also the planet of feeling spiritual, inspired, guided, divine, imaginative, musical, and poetical - the "tune" of Neptune!

Spirituality (Neptune) for the planet will take a huge, bountiful joyful jump (Jupiter) through our many Avatars on earth at this time.

One thing for sure, it is a great time for recording night dreams. We can start a journal or use an audio recorder to make sure we don't forget the essence of each dream. It's best we do this as we awaken from each dream since they disappear fast once we are fully awake. They may come true!

To take advantage of this portal of opportunity, we can notice how much of our time can be spent with these Lucky Activities and perhaps even plan to direct our energy in these directions so that we can tune into the vibrations: We could --

- Sing our hearts out with Christmas caroling
- Soak in inspiration and divinity at our worship place of choice or through meditation and contemplation
- Skip along the water's edge at the ocean for a Neptunian high
- Participate in water sports: skiing, swimming, snorkeling, scuba, surfing, boating

- Dance on the beach
- Laugh at our silliness and tell inspirational jokes
